

Paul Belanger PEBelanger@glassdesignresources.com

Paul is a retired geologist and micropaleontologist with a first-hand research background in paleoclimate and paleoceanography (B.S., Univ. of Washington; M.S. and Ph.D., Brown University). Paul also has a working background in the oil and gas industry. He is a past facilitator/co-facilitator for many DU-OLLI courses on climate change, solutions, and weather (2014-19). As EEE Forum webmaster and co-moderator with David, Paul is also well-versed on related energy and socio-economic sustainability issues and solutions. He has also engaged these topics deeply in leading the Denver Climate Study Group (<https://denverclimatestudygroup.com/>) since 2006.